

bangarang

finding the best food, one recommendation at a time

For restaurants

Bangarang connects your best dishes with diners. As part of our launch, we're giving restaurants the chance to be part of something big. Bangarang is all about giving back to the people that work so hard on creating hidden gems. This is your chance to show what's cooking, what's new, what you're known for. Sign up as a restaurant, tell us what you recommend, and we'll put it in front of people searching for great food.

Free to join — it takes less than 60 seconds to add your website, social media and your first chef's recommendation.

how it works

01 sign up as a restaurant

Takes less than 60 seconds. Your name, your restaurant name, email and password — that's it.

02 share your signature dish, seasonal masterpiece, latest creation or even cocktail

Next add the hidden gem you'd want every diner to try if they came to your restaurant, and a few words on why you recommend it.

03 your recommendation goes live

Your dish goes live with a bright cherry-red badge with tags you chose, and you get a welcome email with a link to your restaurant dashboard.

04 you become a restaurant guide — your free restaurant page

Your restaurant page includes a few photos of your restaurant, website, social media link and menu. Diners can Bangarang your recommendation, save and invite others to join them.

05 want to showcase more dishes?

Once you see Bangarang working for you, just get in touch at hello@bangarangfinds.com and request to add more hidden gems.

bangarang

finding the best food, one recommendation at a time

what you get

Everything you need to showcase your restaurant and get found by hungry diners.

4 — recommend your best to diners

Your signature dish, live with a bright cherry-red badge.

your own restaurant page on our restaurant guide

Business details, social links, menu and specials links, plus every find shared at your restaurant.

new find alerts

Be notified when diners engage with your listing and recommendations.

top finds of the week

Eligible for featured placement in weekly highlights.

your restaurant profile

Restaurant name, logo, bio and contact details — all in one place.

social media links

Connect your Instagram, Facebook and other channels so diners can follow along.

shared on our marketing channels

Your find featured as a food post across our social media and ads.

special feature posts

Opportunities for spotlight features across Bangarang.

as part of our launch — all free

No subscription. No lock-in. Just ask us when you're ready to add even more recommendations.

frequently asked how long does sign-up take?

Under 60 seconds. You create your profile and submit your hidden gem on your restaurant profile. We do the rest to get you in front of diners.

does it cost anything to sign up?

No. As part of our launch, we welcome restaurant guides to share what you do best. Your restaurant profile and your dish recommendations are completely free.

can i add more chef's recommendations?

Yes. You start with 4. Once you see Bangarang working for your restaurant, email hello@bangarangfinds.com to request more dishes on your profile.

do diners need an account to see my restaurant?

No. Anyone can browse Bangarang. We want people to find you.

can I edit things later?

Yes — update your details, photos and dish anytime from your restaurant profile.

ready to get discovered?

Sign up now at bangarangfinds.com/register?as=restaurant — or email hello@bangarangfinds.com and we will help you get set up.